HOW TO USE THIS GENEALOGY

All born Wolcotts are given a number, also are capitalized.

All Wolcotts with an asterisk () following their number (2553.) are carried to the next generation with their number appearing in the center of the page:

The raised number following each given name denotes generation.

All born female Wolcotts have individual numbers. Their offspring immediately follow and are indented to differentiate generations.

Adopted children are identified. Subsequent generations of adopted children are not included.

THE WOLCOTT ARMS

Shield: Argent a Cheveron between three Chess Rooks ermined.
Crest: A Bull's Head erased argent, armed or, ducally gorged, lined, and ringed, of the last.
Motto: Nullius addictus jurare in verba magistri.

Bearing the Name of "WOLCOTT"

These arms, which are of great antiquity, are identical with the Walcott Arms, and indicate the historical identity of the families.

The design is etched on the silver tankard and cup of Governor Roger Wolcott--a grandson of the first settler and whose father was born in England--and engraved on the tombstone of Captain Samuel Wolcott, a contemporary of Roger. These copies, apparently, were not duplicated from books of heraldry and suggest the existence of a traditional copy which has since disappeared.

The chess rooks were introduced early in the fifteenth century through a knight of whom it is recorded in the old Family Pedigree:

> Playing at ye chesse with Henry ye fifte, kind of Englande, he gave hym ye cheke matte with ye rouke, whereupone ye kings changed his coate of armes which was ye crosse with flower de lures, and gave him ye rouke for a remembrance.

From Heralds Visitation:

> It seems these Chess Rooks were at first called Rooks for being in defence of all ye rest: and therefore they stande in ye uttermost corners of ye Chesseboard as Frontier Castles. Kinge William ye Conquerour lost greate Lordships at this playe. And it might well become a Kinge, for therein are comprised all ye Stratagems of Warr or plotts of Civill State.

The motto is a line of the Latin poet Horace. A literal rendering is, "Accustomed to swear in the words of no master." The allusion is to the student practice of repeating phrases after the teacher. The meaning is to rest one's faith on no man's assertion, to think and decide for one's self, to take nothing on trust.

The picture shows the arms as drawn by Somerby and engraved by Richardson.

Elizabeth Wolcott in Windsor, Connecticut (the most recent repairs to this arched monument were completed in September, 1976, by Donald C. Berquist and John M. Miller, II).

Each year since this first meeting, except for the war years of 1918 and 1942 through 1945, the members of the Society have gathered to further the work of the family association.

This edition of the Wolcott Genealogy is a part of those continuing efforts. The introductory sections of the book attempt to give a synopsis of the family's heritage. A number of documents have been quoted in their entirety for the benefit of family researchers. That these documents have been preserved from the ravages of time is a tribute to the family's historical consciousness.

While the documents in this book hold some interest, the main portion of this volume is devoted to recording the descendants of Henry Wolcott. This task has been complicated by the variations in the spelling of the surname. Variations on Wolcott include Walcott, Walcut, Wolcot, Wolcut, Woolcott, Woolcut, Wolcutt, and Wulcotte. In some records the same person is labeled by several of these spellings.

All in America bearing any variation of the Wolcott name are believed to have descended from either Henry Wolcott or William Walcott. Henry settled at Windsor, Connecticut and his descendants spread into western Massachusetts. The home of William was in Salem, Massachusetts. Some of William's family eventually moved to the western part of the state and Connecticut. They then adopted the Wolcott spelling common to the region. A change to the Walcott spelling took place when a son of the second Henry Wolcott moved to Salem.

Such variations in spelling often cause confusion and sometimes prevent tracing a family to one of the original immigrants to America. Those unable to trace their lineage directly to Henry Wolcott have been included in an appendix to this book. It is hoped that further research will uncover new information toward establishing a family tie.

Whether included in the appendix or in the main body of the book, each individual may be proud of the many accomplishments of the Wolcott family in America. As was once stated by Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts, "The name of the Wolcott family has not been created by one or two great men, but throughout their whole history of over two centuries and a half in this country, each generation has sustained the good name and high character of the past."

The Genealogy

THE DEED CHEST

When Henry Wolcott left England in 1630 he carried with him a small wooden chest measuring twelve inches in length, seven inches in width, and six and three-quarters inches in height. Its slightly curved lid exhibited the initials H. W. formed with brass nails. Covered with leather and lined with paper, this deed chest contained Henry's valued papers.

The box and much of its contents exist to this day. The ancient deeds hold as much value for their artistic display as for their historical content. Most are handsomely engrossed on parchment with original signatures and seals intact. The most notable seal is the Great Seal of James I, King of England from 1603 to 1625. The seal is made of a hard, bronze-colored, wax-like substance and measures about five inches in diameter and one inch thick. This seal appeared on a license of alienation issued 1 April 1616.

Other papers in the deed chest included a deed dated 20 June 1618 from Robert Mynne to Christopher Woolcott transferring lands in the parishes of Tolland and Lydiard St. Lawrence for 220 pounds. Henry also had with him a lease of 20 March 1623 for ninety-nine years, or three lives, from Christopher Wolcott to Valentine Date, also known as Darte.

The chest and its contents were transmitted from the elder line of the family through the daughters of the third Henry Wolcott and came to be held by a related family living in Windsor. Following is a letter to Windsor's Town Clerk from Governor Oliver Wolcott, Jr., regarding the deed chest and its contents:

Litchfield, March 24th, 1823

Elisha N. Sill, Esq.
Town Clerk of Windsor

Sir:

I have lately received your letter of January 24th, 1823 by the hands of Christopher C. Wolcott, Esq.

The small box, to which you refer, appears to have been brought from England by Henry Wolcott, Esq., one of the original planters of Windsor, and contains a number of ancient deeds relating to his estate in Somersetshire, more than two centuries old, there is not a single document which can possibly affect the title to any property either in England or in this country and the box and its contents are only valuable as relicts of an ancient family and as they exhibit memorials of their origin. The purpose for which I solicited them was that I might commit the descendants of Henry Wolcott, respecting a safe place of deposit, where they would be preserved from dilapidation. It is my purpose to attend to this subject when I visit Hartford and Windsor and when I have no doubt that some arrangement may be made which will be satisfactory to all concerned.

There are still remaining with you a number of charts or maps of the English Estate, which I will thank you to preserve till I have the pleasure of seeing you.

I am respectfully,
Oliver Wolcott

Henry Wolcott's Deed Chest

THE DEED CHEST

The Governor gained possession of these family heirlooms. They later went to George Gibbs, who deposited them with the Connecticut Historical Society in Hartford. The letter below was sent to Gibbs by the historical society's librarian, Rev. Dr. Thomas Robbins:

Hartford, April 13, 1848

Dear Sir:

Your venerable small Trunk, with various Relics of ancient days, arrived in safety, and is disposed of as one of our most valuable deposits. You have obtained an ample reward for your persevering researches among the remains of your venerable ancestors. I consider no family of Connecticut as holding a higher reputation for the two centuries we have passed, and as more sure to be held in lasting remembrance, than the Wolcotts. This collection of valuable documents is received with gratitude as a sacred deposit, holden at all times subject to your disposal, and with a sacred regard to the conditions you have prescribed.

Your obliged friend
Thomas Robbins.

The documents remain in the care of the Connecticut Historical Society. By 1880 the chest had found its way into the hands of Henry Goodrich Wolcott, among the seventh generation of American Wolcotts and a resident of Fishkill-on-the-Hudson, New York. The chest has since returned to the Connecticut area and is the property of a local historical society.

ROYAL LICENSE OF ALIENATION OF GALDON MANOR

On the following pages appears the original Latin text and English translation of the document which records the conveyance of Galdon Manor to Christopher Wolcott in 1616. The royal seal of King James I which adorns this document has made this license a cherished Wolcott memento.

The Somersetshire spelling of the family name appears in this document. This is the prevalent spelling in the United States. However, ancient family letters from England give three different forms of the name. The traditional pronunciation of the first vowel is the same as in wolf.

In the preparation of the 1880 Wolcott Memorial, the elaborate calligraphy of the license endorsement was deciphered and translated by Roger Wolcott of Boston. Much time was spent on the brief sentence. To assure accuracy of translation, scholars in England were also consulted. One of the facts uncovered by the research was that the Bacon whose name appears on the document was not the Lord High Chancellor, as had been supposed, but more likely his elder half-brother. A letter of 25 November 1880 from William Hardy of London, Deputy Keeper of Records, to Roger Wolcott states:

> On the 21st of May, in the 16th year of James I., I find the enrollment of Bacon's appointment to the office of ingrossing such licenses (Patent Roll, 16 Jas. I., Part 23, No. 10). "Rex 21 die Maii concessit Nathanieli Bacon gen (generoso) the office of ingrossinge all licenses and pardons for alienations during life." The name "Nathaniel" induces me to think that he was probably connected with the family of Nicholas, the Lord Keeper, and his son Francis, Lord Chancellor. The Lord Keeper had by his first wife two sons,-- Nicholas, the first baronet created by James I., and "Nathaniel"; by his second wife he had Francis, the Lord Chancellor.

The text of the endorsement is given here in both Latin and English. The blank which appears in the text was where the roll number would be recorded

James, by the grace of God, King of England, Scotland, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c.

To All to whom the present letters may come, Greeting: Know ye that we, of our special grace, and for twenty shillings paid unto our collectors, in virtue of our letters patent, have granted and given license, and, for ourselves, our heirs and successors, so far as in us lies, by these presents do grant and give license unto our beloved Robert Mynne, Esquire, that he may give and grant, aliene, or acknowledge by fine or by recovery, in our court, in presence of our justices in bench, or in any other way whatsoever, at the pleasure of the same Robert, two messauges, one mill, three gardens, three orchards, eight acres of meadow, and seventy-four acres of pasture, with the appurtenances, in Tolland and Lydyard Lawrence, in our county of Somerset, which are held of us in capite, so-called, unto our beloved Christopher Wolcott, To have and to hold unto the same Christopher, and his heirs and assigns, for the use and behoof of the same Christopher and his heirs and assigns, forever, of us, our heirs and successors, by all things thence due and of right accustomed.

And unto the same Christopher that he may receive the aforesaid messuages,... and all things foregoing, with the appurtenances, from the aforesaid Robert, to hold to himself, and his heirs and assigns, of us, our heirs and successors, by all things aforesaid, as before, forever, according to the tenor of these present letters, we have given and for us, our heirs and successors, we give (as) before special license.

It being our will that neither the aforesaid Robert or his heirs, nor the aforesaid Christopher or his heirs, by reason of the foregoing, be distressed, molested, impeached, vexed in anything, or oppressed, nor that any one of them be distressed, molested, impeached, vexed in anything, or oppressed, by us, our heirs or successors, or by our justices, escheators, sheriffs, bailiffs, or other officers or servants, or any of their heirs or of our successors.

In Witness Whereof we have caused these our letters patent to be made. Witness myself at Westminster, on the first day of April, in the sixteenth year of our reign over England, France and Ireland, and over Scotland the fifty-first.

Visiting ancestral homes has always been a favorite pastime of genealogists. Walking the same ground as one's forebears adds a sense of reality to the persons known only through records.

In the mid-nineteenth century H. G. Somerby, an antiquarian and artist, was asked to research the Wolcott family home in England. Studying the ancient Subsidy Rolls, Somerby was able to trace the Wolcott family back to 1525. In that year William and Thomas Wolcot were found to have resided in Tolland. A visit to Tolland revealed that the parish registers before 1706 had been either lost or destroyed. A search of the records dating back to 1573 for the adjoining parish of Lidiard St. Lawrence did uncover references to the Wolcotts of Tolland. It was not uncommon for residents of Tolland to have their children christened in neighboring Lidiard. The Lidiard records revealed that Henry, "ye sonne of John Wolcott," was baptized 6 December 1578; John, son of Henry Wolcott, was baptized 1 October 1607; Henry Wolcott and Elizabeth Saunders were married 19 January 1606.

Since Somerby's discovery of the ancestral home's location, a number of family members have made pilgrimages to Tolland, which is situated in the southwest portion of England in the county of Somerset. One of these pilgrims was Rev. Dr. Peter Clark Wolcott of Highland Park, Illinois. Visiting Tolland in the summer of 1900, Rev. Wolcott was impressed by the fertility of the countryside though obviously long subjected to cultivation, the deeply worn roads flanked by high banks and thick hedges, and the impression that all had been "untouched by the spirit of modern progress and lies steeped in the drowsy peace of medieval England."

In the History and Antiquities of Somerset written in the late eighteenth century Tolland was described as being set in "a rich, woody, and well-watered vale, surrounded with hills" where wheat, barley, peas, and flax were cultivated. There were then only a dozen houses, a water-powered gristmill, a manor house, and a small church.

Tolland's ancient church of St. John The Baptist, once known as St. Leonard, remains in use to this day. Constructed of red sandstone with a slate tower, once made of wood, the church is an example of Gothic architecture. The nave has a seating capacity of 109 and is faced by a carved Elizabethan pulpit. In the churchyard remain only two of the ancient Wolcott monuments. Time has obliterated the inscription on one but the other stone records "The body of John Wolcot 21 Mar. 1618. Here also lieth the bodie of Johne Woolcot mother of the said John Wolcot who deceased the 5th of Aprill 1637." The most recent Wolcott burial in the churchyard took place in August 1977, when the ashes of Roger Wolcott-Behnke were interred. The chart on the following page helps identify this John and Johne who are buried in the old churchyard.

The manor house mentioned in descriptions of Tolland is called Galdon Manor, also spelled Gauldon or Gaulden, which was once owned by the Wolcott family. In March of 1912, Charles A. Hoppin, an American genealogist, described the Manor property as having "scarcely an acre of level ground" within its limits. There were round, steep hills everywhere Hoppin looked but none higher than four hundred feet above sea level. "Few trees are to be seen on Galdon Manor," related Hoppin, "every acre is under cultivation; hedges mark all boundaries."

The manor house, dating back to at least 1450, is regarded as a good example of an independent citizen's feudal residence. Rev. Dr. Peter Clark Wolcott described the structure as being "not a splendid mansion..., but a low gray stone house of two stories surrounded by ancient farm buildings.

Galdon is about a mile from the village and is reached by following a winding road. Visiting the manor in 1906, Schuyler B. Jackson, Esq., of Newark, New Jersey, described the solidly constructed building as being located on a small piece of level ground halfway down a hill. At the foot of the hill is a stream known as Tolland Water. In a nearby orchard there is a pond.

View of Gaulden Manor and Surrounding Farmlands

John Benjamin Wolcott, whose recent research in England included a visit to the ancestral home, estimates the length of the house at sixty feet. The lintel porch, that had a story above it, near the west entrance has been removed. The entrance opens into a passage that leads to the garden and orchard behind the house. To the right the passage opens into the main hall. The hall's plaster ceiling is decorated at the center with an impressive pendant and eight ornamental flutings. A foot-wide cornice surrounds the room with reliefs depicting the temptation of Adam and Eve, Herodias's daughter bearing John the Baptist's head to Herod, David playing the harp, and much more. Carvings of crests and coats of arms also decorate the hall. Over the fireplace is the arms of Turberville being that of James Turberville, Bishop of Exeter. On the mantel is inscribed "focus perennis esto," which means "Let there be perpetual fire." Between the fireplace and a stone mullioned window is a carved oak partition separating the hall from an area traditionally known as the "chapel."

The Galdon property was owned by the Taunton Priory, a religious house also known as the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem, from the fourteenth century until 12 February 1539. It was at the latter date that the property was surrendered to Henry VIII during that monarch's dissolution of England's monasteries. In 1544 Henry granted the property to William Standish for life. Standish died in 1553 and Galdon went to his daughter Alice and her husband, Francis Southwell of Norfolk. Alice died childless. The original grant stated that in the absence of heirs to Alice, Galdon was to go to John Mynne and his heirs. Francis Southwell transferred Galdon in 1565 to George Mynne, John's son. The elder Mynne had died four years earlier.

George Mynne willed Galdon to his wife, Elizabeth. George died 20 May 1581. The records next show Robert Mynne, George's son, entering into an indenture to sell the manor property to Christopher Wolcott.

The text of this document dated 20 June 1618 follows. The elaborate script of the original was deciphered by Roger Wolcott, later to become Governor of Massachusetts. The deed is included for the benefit of diligent researchers or for those suffering from insomnia.

Upon the death of Christopher Wolcott in 1639 the Galdon property was bequethed to his brother Henry, who three years later deeded it to his son Henry, Jr.

Henry never lived in Galdon Manor, having left England before gaining possession of the house. While in Tolland, Henry and his wife lived in a house connected to the village mill.

Henry was born at Tolland in 1578. He was the third generation of Wolcotts to live in that town. The primary occupations of the Tolland Wolcotts were tuckers, clothier, and merchants of the cloth trade. By the close of the Middle Ages the manufacture of clothing had grown to become a large scale industry. Merchant clothiers would buy raw wool and "put it out" to peasants to be carded, spun, and woven into cloth. The fulling of cloth was accomplished in water-powered mills. After dyeing, the nap was raised by using the barbed plant commonly known as the fuller's teasel. The cloth was then ready to be sold. St. Lawrence was the patron saint of cloth workers, which may explain why Tolland's neighboring village was named Lydiard of St. Lawrence.

No record has been found of Wolcotts living in the county of Somerset before the sixteenth century. Henry and his descendants in America trace their lineage to the Wolcott family of Shropshire. This family was descended from a Welsh tribal chief, Llewellyn Aurdorchog, and several family members were knighted during the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries. The family genealogy compiled in 1623 and preserved at the College of Heralds in London fails to provide a link to the Wolcotts in Somerset. The families did spell their surnames differently. In Shropshire it was Walcott and in Somerset Wolcott or Woolcott.

Using the Somerset spelling was a family in the neighboring county of Devonshire. This family, whose genealogy is also filed with the College of Heralds, descends from Walter Wolcott of Wolcott in the parish of Thrushelton, Devonshire. This Wolcott lived at about 1400. Descendants of this family include John Wolcott, mayor of Exeter in 1565, two early graduates of Oxford University and the noted poet and writer John Wolcot, who used the pen name Peter Pindar. This family's coat of arms is "per pale azure and gules, on a cross flory or 5 martlets sable; with a crest of a griffins head erased argent gutty gules, in its beak a fleur de lis bezante."

The genealogy below traces Henry Wolcott's ancestors for twenty-six generations. This information was first presented by Mrs. Juliet E. Muff at the August, 1931, reunion of the Society of Descendants of Henry Wolcott held in Rochester, New York. Mrs. Muff of Cleveland was the Society's vice president for Ohio. Her document was read at the Society's business meeting by Henry A. Bliss, chairman of the Henry Wolcott Foundation. This information was again printed in the 1960 Reunion Report upon the request of Mrs. Margaret (Allen) Higgins Smith.

According to the lineage in Burke's Landed Gentry, the Walcots descend from one of the ancient septs of Wales and their surname from the marriage of an ancestor to the heiress of the Knightly House of Walcot. The family was seated at Walcot, Salop until the sale of that property to Lord Clive. The lineage is given here with the understanding that further documentation is needed to verify this line.

1. Henry^{1} Wolcott (the emigrant), baptized 6 December 1578, who conveyed the manor house to his son Henry^{2}. The final "T" was not added until Henry^{1} removed to America.

Henry Wolcott married Elizabeth Saunders. They are mentioned in the Famely Chronologie, 1691: "This happie pair were married About ye year 1606. He came to New England about the year 1628 and in the year 1630 brought over his family, to avoid the persecution of those times against dissenters."

Henry's removal to America came during the autocratic rule of Charles I. England was at war, under military law, suffering economic hardships, and split by religious fervor. Englishmen began to look to America as an asylum for civil and religious liberty.

Henry was a member of England's landed gentry. A Connecticut historian later described Henry as the owner of a fine estate and "a man of superior abilities." He sold land worth about eight thousand pounds to help finance the expedition to America. The fifty-two year old Henry took his wife and sons Henry, Christopher, and George. Remaining in England until a home was established in the New World were two daughters and a five-year-old son. (Anna, Mary, Simon).

Those Wolcotts leaving for America sailed on 20 March 1630 from Plymouth, England, aboard the Mary and John skippered by Captain Squeb. Before leaving England, the expedition of one hundred forty individuals from western England organized as an independent church. This came to be known as the First Church in Windsor, the oldest church in Connecticut.

The Mary and John was the first of a fleet of seventeen ships to sail for the New England coast. The other sixteen vessels did no leave port until two weeks after the first ship. Henry Wolcott and his party were to make their way alone, leaving behind the comforts of English settlements to face the challenges of the American wilderness.

THE FAMILY IN AMERICA

Almost two and one half months after sailing from England, Henry Wolcott and his party aboard the Mary and John sighted the shores of the New World. On Sunday, 30 May 1630, the ship lay off Nantasket. In reverence to the Sabbath, a landing was not attempted until the next day. On that day began a new era in the Wolcott saga.

Captain Roger Clap, a member of this expedition, recorded the events of the journey. Selected passages from his account follow:

> There came godly families in that ship. We were of passengers many in number (besides seamen) of good rank. These godly people resolved to live together; and, therefore, as they had made choice of those two reverend servants of God, Mr. John Warham and Mr. John Maverick, to be their ministers, so they kept a solemn day of fasting in the New Hospital in Plymouth, in England, spending it in preaching and praying, when that worthy man of God, Mr. John White, of Dorchester, in Dorset, was present, and preached unto us the word of God in the fore part of the day; and, in the latter part of the day, as the people did solemnly make choice of and call those godly ministers to be their officers, so also the Reverend Mr. Warham and Mr. Maverick did accept thereof, and expressed the same. So we came by the good hand of the Lord, through the deeps comfortably; having preaching or expounding of the word of God every day, for ten weeks together, by our ministers.
> When we came to Nantasket [now named Hull], Captain Squeb, who was captain of that great ship of four hundred tons, would not bring us into Charles River, as he was bound to do, but put us ashore and our goods on Nantasket Point, and left us to shift for ourselves, in a forlorn place in this wilderness. But, as it pleased God, we got a boat of some old planters, and laded her with goods; and some able men, well-armed, went in her unto Charlestown, where we found some wigwams and one house; and in the house there was a man which had boiled bass, but no bread that we see. But we did eat of his bass, and then went up Charles River, until the river grew narrow and shallow; and there we landed our goods, with much labor and toil, the bank being steep; and, night coming on, we were informed that there were hard by us > three hundred Indians. One Englishman, that could speak the Indian language (an old planter), went to them, and advised them not to come near us in the night, and they hearkened to his counsels, and came not. I myself was one of the sentinels that first night. In the morning, some of the Indians came and stood at a distance off, looking at us, but came not near us. But, when they had been a while in view, some of them came and held out a great bass toward us; so we sent a man with a biscuit, and changed the cake for the bass. Afterwards they supplied us with bass, exchanging a bass for a biscuit cake, and were very friendly unto us.

> We had not been there many days (although, by our diligence, we had got up a kind of shelter to save our goods in), but we had order to come away from that place which was about Watertown, unto a place called Mattapan, now Dorchester, because of a neck of land fit to keep cattle on. So we removed and came to Mattapan. Indians there also were kind unto us.

John Winthrop mentions the ship's arrival in Massachusetts in his journal entry for 17 June 1630: "We lay at Mr. Mavericks and returned home on Saturday. As we came home, we came by Nantasket and sent for Capt. Squeb ashore--he had brought the west country people, vis. Mr. Ludlow, Mr. Rossiter, Mr. Maverick, etc. to the bay who were set down at Mattapan (these were the settlers of Dorchester) and ended a difference between him and the passengers, whereupon he sent his boat to his ship the Mary and John and at our parting gave us five pieces."

This new settlement was named Dorchester, many of the settlers having come from the English community of that same name and wishing to pay tribute to their hometown pastor, Rev. John White. White took an active interest in the settlement and provided the colonists with aid. His support earned him the title of "the great patron of New England emigration." The new Dorchester was sanctioned by the Court of Assistants on 7 September 1630 and incorporated.

Captain Clap relates the hardships endured by these early pioneers:

> In our beginning, many were in great straits for want of provisions for themselves and their little ones. Oh! the hunger that many suffered, and saw no hope in an eye of reason to be supplied, only by clams and mussels and fish. We did quickly build boats, and some went a-fishing. But bread was with many a very scarce thing, and flesh of all kinds as scarce. And in our days, in our straits, though I cannot say God sent a raven to feed us, as he did the prophet Elijah, yet this I can say, to the praise of God's glory, that he sent not only poor ravenous Indians, which came with their bags of corn on their backs to trade with us (which was a good supply unto many), but also sent ships from Holland and from Ireland with provisions and Indian corn from Virginia to supply the wants of his dear servants in this wilderness, both for food and raiment.
> In those days, God did cause his people to trust in him, and to be contented with mean things. It was not accounted a strange thing in those days to drink water, and to eat samp or hominy without butter or milk. Indeed, it would have been a strange thing to see a piece of roast beef, mutton, or veal, though it was not long before there was roast goat. After the first winter, we were > healthy though some of us had no great store of corn. The Indians did sometimes bring corn, and truck with us for clothing and knives; and once I had a peck of corn, or thereabouts, for a little puppy dog. Frost-fish, mussels, and clams were a relief to many.

Help arrived in July, 1633, with the arrival of a ship to Dorchester. Aboard were eighty passengers and twelve cows.

Shortly afterwards, it seems word was received from the Dutch of New York that a valuable tract of land in Connecticut lay unsettled. John Oldham and three companions set out in September, 1633, to view the land and trade with the Indians. They returned with glowing accounts of the land's fertility and the peacefulness of the Indians.

Many at Dorchester had decided to remove to Connecticut and in 1634, applied to the General Court of Massachusetts to do so. Their request was denied. Nonetheless, a number of pioneers made their way to Connecticut during the summer of 1635 to build a new settlement.

That first winter in the new settlement of Windsor was severe. Many returned to Massachusetts. Those who remained suffered extreme hardships. They were forced to subsist on acorns, malt, and grain. Cattle perished.

Spring brought new hope and additional settlers. It was at this time that the Governor of Massachusetts John Haynes, Mr. Wells, and Henry Wolcott came to Connecticut with other Massachusetts emigrants from Dorchester, Newtown (now Cambridge), and Watertown.

One hundred men, women, and children began the arduous journey to their new homes in early May of 1636. Their baggage was sent ahead by boat. They drove their cattle before them as the travelers sought their way through forests and swamps and across streams. Only the young and feeble were given the luxury of riding horseback along Indian trails less than two feet wide. The travelers lived on the milk from their cattle and the prayers in their hearts. Each night they lay wrapped in their cloaks and blankets fearing the attack of wild beasts or unfriendly Indians. The pioneers reached their destination in two weeks and fanned out to build the Connecticut communities of Windsor, Hartford, and Wethersfield.

The more affluent of these settlers had purchased property rights from England's Plymouth Company. The company had been given proprietorship over this region by a royal grant. The settlers, however, recognized the Indians as the true proprietors of the land and compensated the natives for the land the settlers chose. The new arrivals, with the sanction of the Massachusetts Assembly, established a system of laws similar to those in their home colony except that church membership was not considered a qualification for holding civil office.

Henry Wolcott was a leading citizen in the new Connecticut colony. In Massachusetts he had appeared on the first list of "ffreemen" dated 19 October 1630, which made him a member of the colony's General Court. In 1637, Henry appears as one of twelve members in the Lower House of Connecticut's first General Assembly. In 1640 his name is first among the list of Windsor inhabitants. Three years later his name is among the members of the house of Magistrates, the upper house of the Assembly. He was reelected to this position each year for the remainder of his life. He was described as being, "after the pastor, the most distinguished man in Windsor."

Before this time Henry's brother Christopher had died, leaving the family estate in England to Henry. It is believed that Henry visited his homeland in 1640. His younger children--Anna, Mary, and Simon--had probably arrived in America before this. It is known that the children came to the New World between 1631 and 1641.

Helen Shaw Goodsell reported at the nineteenth family reunion held in Syracuse, New York in August, 1923, that "The Wolcotts remained in Dorchester six years, during which time a stable government was established and living had fallen into quiet routine. The children from whom Elizabeth had been separated were now with her." Later researchers have been unable to verify this information.

Henry Wolcott's contributions to the settlement of America were many. As one Connecticut historian wrote, "he was a man of superior abilities." Henry's descendants can be proud of their first family member to America. Henry also would be proud to see what his descendants have accomplished and how the Wolcott name has continued to be respected through the centuries.

Following is the text of early family letters that will be of interest to researchers. That these letters have survived for fifteen generations is rare. The first, fourth, and sixth letters were addressed to Henry Wolcott, Jr. The remaining letters were addressed to the senior Henry.

#4 From His Cousin

John's son Hugh Wolcott wrote to his cousin Henry from Wellington on 20 March 1642:

It hath pleased God to set a great Destruction amongst us here in our land, both in Church and State, that men, as the Scripture saith, hath almost at there wits end, for noe Turkish slavery can be worse than hath bin inflicted over us. We have bin robed and stript of all our goods, both within doores and without, and leade away captive from house and harbour, and like to suffer death; but prayse God that he hath not given us over to the wills of our adversari, for then we had bin overwhelmed. Cozen, soe it is we are removed from Venns to Wellington at Micklemas last, and my father and mother doth live in the house that was my uncles, Chr Wollcott, and I and my wife doth live with them.... If uour ffather or you plese to come over to dispose of what is here there may be sales men found; but Estates doe goe at verie low value that formerly they have bin, for since the troubles did arise not any estate was able to make good the the charges that went out of it by a greate deale. One hundred pounds in purse that could be saved to deal over hath bin more worth than 2 hundred pounds per annum.

WILLS

The progenitor of the Somerset Wolcotts may have been William Wolcott of Dulverton, a town four miles from the Devonshire border. His will, written in 1500 and proved in 1530 at the Bishop's Court at Wells, was destroyed during World War II. The following copy was made by Somerby, the Boston genealogist, prior to the war:

Tolland's Tax Rolls of 1550 record the name of Thomas Wolcott, Sr. Thomas worked as a tucker. He is believed to be the progenitor of the Wolcotts who resided at Tolland for the next two centuries. Thomas died sometime after 1553, but there is no evidence that he had a will.

The will of Henry (the emigrant) dated 30 May 1655, reads:

I henry Woolcott, sick of body but of prfect memory, doe make and ordaine this my last will and testament in manner and forme as ffollowing: Ffirst, I commend my soule to God my maker, hoping assuredly through he only merit of Jesus Christ my savior to bee made prtaker of life everlasting, and I comend my Body to ye earth whereof it was made. It. I will yt my wife shall have all my house lott, orchard garden, hopyard, and my lott in plimouth meadow, during he tearme of her life. Allsoe I give unto my wife two of my Cowes and halfe of my household goods in my dwelling house. Alsoe I leave my land in England to Henry my Eldest sonn, without encumbrances. Alsoe I give unto him my two Books of Marters. Alsoe I give to Christopher, my second sonn, my lott in ye great meadow after my death, And my house lott and housing upon it it after ye death of my wife, he paying out of it thirtie pounds after my wifes decease as I shall further appoint. Alsoe I give to George my third sonn, the five pounds hee owes mee and five pounds more. Allsoe I give to Simon, my youngest sonne, all my land on ye easterly side of the great River and my lott att Arrammetts. Allsoe to the children of Henry my Eldest sonne, five pounds to Henry ye eldest of ym and to ye rest of ym fortie shillings a peece. Allsoe I give all ye rest of my goods to bee equally devided amongst all my children. Allsoe I appoint Henry Wolcott my sonne to be overseere of this my last will and testament Allsoe my will is yt Christover my sonne shall have my lott in plimouth meadow after ye decease of my wife. Allsoe my will is yt my debts should bee first paid.

October 4, 1655. The above written being testified to the Court by Mr. Henry Wolcott, upon oath, and by Mr. Wichfield to be the last will and testament of Mr. Henry Wolcott, senior, deceased, the Court approbated of the same, and ordered it to be recorded.

John Cullick, Secretary.

The inventory of Henry Wolcott's estate, exclusive of property in England, was valued at £ 764 8s 10d.

Henry Wolcott's Windsor residence was in the southern part of the town south of the Farmington River on a tract of high land known as "The Island." This was along the road to Hartford. The lot of his eldest son, Henry, Jr., adjoined his own on the south side and both fronted to the west. Henry, Sr., resided in Windsor until his death 30 May 1655. He dictated his will the day of his death. His widow lived only five weeks longer. She died 7 July. Her will, dated 5 July, was signed with an X since she was too weak to sign her full name.

Henry spent his youth in merrymaking, but, with age and the instruction of Edward Elton, Henry found new joy in religion.

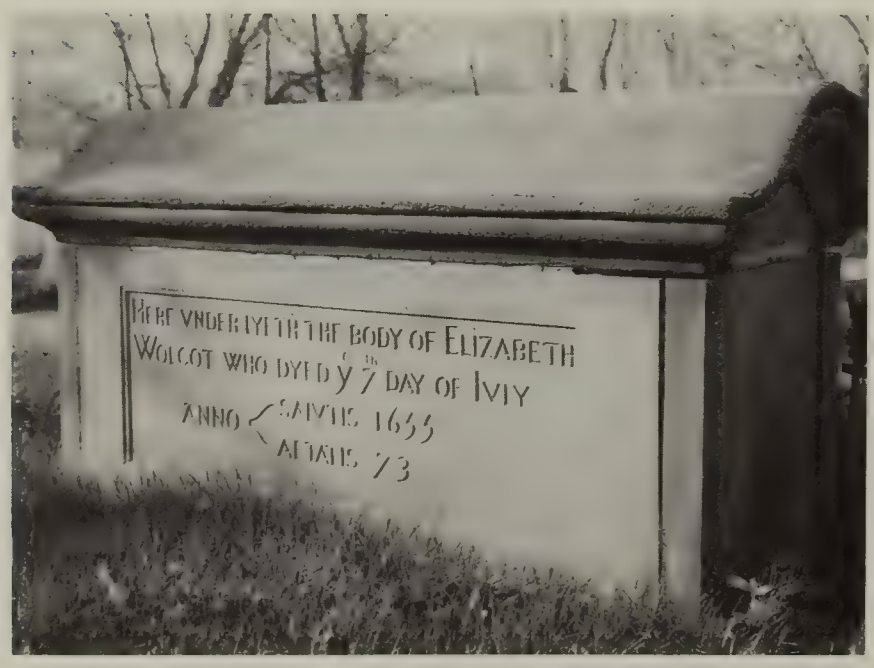
The Grave of Henry & Elizabeth Wolcott
First Congregational Church Yard
Windsor, Connecticut



Over the graves of Henry and his wife, Elizabeth, there is an arch monument of brown stone. This monument was erected by Henry's son-in-law Matthew Griswold. It was fashioned after the trunk Henry brought with him on his voyage from England. It is said to be the oldest monument of this style in the country. It was erected about 1665 and in 1977 was still in perfect preservation. The most recent repair to this monument was done 25 September 1976 by Donald C. Bergquist and John M. Miller. The record of Henry's and Elizabeth's death found in the ancient family chronologie states, "These both dyed in hope and Ly buryed under one Tomb in Windsor." Surrounding the monument are the gravestones of some of their children and grandchildren. The graves are in the cemetery at the rear of the Windsor, Connecticut First Congregational Church, located along the northern bank of the Farmington River.

Henry's wife, Elizabeth, was born to Thomas and Anne Saunders at Lydiard St. Lawrence in 1582. She was baptized at Lydiard 20 December 1584. Her will dated 5 July 1655 reads:

I Elizabeth Wolcott doe make and ordain this my last Will and Testament in manner and form following Imprimis I will yt my sonn George shall have ₤5 worth of my part of ye household goods and ₤5 worth of my cloathes Allso I give unto Simon my Sonne ye bluewish stuff hee bought for me ye last yeare. I give ye rest of my household goods to be equally betwixt Christover and Simon my Sonnes Allsoe I give ye rest of my cloathes to be equally divided betwixt my daughters Anne and Mary. I would intreat Christover to lett Simon to dwell in ye house and to have ye use of halfe of it a while Allsoe I give my two Cowes to be equally devided among all my Grand Children Moreover my will is yt whereas I have appointed my part of ye household Goods to be devided betwixt Christover and Simon except ₤5 to George now my Will is yt it shall soe Stand upon yt Condition yt Christover and Simon doe release their parts of ye Household Goods or else there shall bee soe much taken out of this their parts of ye rest of ye Goods comes to

The Saunders family was living at Lydiard St. Lawrence as early as 1534, when John Saunders was a local church warden. William and Thomas were listed on the community's muster roll of 1569. They may have been John's sons. Parish documents record that Elizabeth's brother, Thomas, Jr., was baptized in 1586, her brother Christopher in 1589, and her father, Thomas Saunders, was buried at Lydiard in June, 1609.

Her father's will, dated 26 May 1609, leaves the following bequests:

To the Cathedral Church Wells 4d
To the church of Lydiard St. Lawrence 6s 8 d, for to be buried in the Churchyard
To the poor of Lydiard St. Lawrence 10s
To my godchildren 4d apiece
To my son Thomas, 40₤ and land in Woolavington called Preston Close, out of which he is to pay my son John 4₤ yearly. If Thomas dies without heirs this land to go to my son Christopher, if he dies without heirs it will go to my son Robert, but whoever gets it must pay John the 4₤ yearly.

To my son Christopher, 40Ł and two meadows (approximately 7 acres) in Halse called Halsewooe. If he dies without heirs it is to go to Thomas, and he lacking heirs to Robert.

To my son Robert, 40Ł, paid at 4Ł a year until he marry or come into some property, at which time he receive the balance.

My wife Anne and my son Thomas are to give my daughter Agnes life tenture of a house called Northwalls in Cheddon Fitzpayne if she pays out of the property 40s a year to my son John, and if this is done Agnes is to give up her rights to a house in Chappeoey,within the Parish of Lydiard St. Lawrence, which is to be given to my sons Robert and Christopher.

To my daughter Joan Wrentmore 10s; to her sons, Thomas, John, and Nicholas, 3Ł to be divided between them.

To my daughter Elizabeth Wolcott, 10s; to her son John, 20s.

The residue of my estate to my wife Anne, who I appoint executrix of my will. If my wife marry again she must pay my son Thomas 40Ł. If my wife refuse to be executrix of my will, my son Thomas is to be executor, and is to pay my wife Ł40. My wife is to allow my son Thomas to keep 10 sheep on the property where I now dwell, and to whichever of my sons my wife leaves the house I now live in, she shall also leave them the plough stuff and household stuff used there. I appoint as overseers of my will Thomas Wrentmore alias Bond of Bishops Lydiard and Henry Wolcott of Ash Priors, my son-in-laws, to be paid 10s each for doing it. Also, if my wife sells or puts to waste more than 10s worth of wood a year, other than what she uses in the house, then she must pay my son Thomas Ł20.

Witnesses: Thomas Saunders, the younger, Christopher Saunders, Robert Saunders.

It is likely that Thomas's married daughters were left smaller bequests than the other children because the daughters may have been given a portion of the estate at the time of their marriages. Henry and Elizabeth may have been given the house at Ash Priors or the money to obtain it as their portion of the estate. It may have been the sale of this property which financed their emigration to America.

FIRST GENERATION

1.* HENRY[1] WOLCOTT, b. 1578; bap. 6 Dec 1578, in parish church at Lydiard St. Lawrence in England; son of John Wolcot of Tolland, Somersetshire, England. Henry emigrated from England and was the ancestor of the family in America. He was one of the nineteen men mentioned in the Connecticut charter. He died 30 May 1655, Windsor, CT. He married on 19 Jan 1606, at Lydiard St. Lawrence to Elizabeth Saunders, b. 1582; bap. 20 Dec 1584 in parish church at Lydiard St. Lawrence; d. 7 July 1655, Windsor, CT; dau. of Thomas and Anne Saunders of Lydiard St. Lawrence, Somersetshire, Eng.

2. JOHN[2], bap. 1 Oct 1607, in parish church at Lydiard St. Lawrence; was living in England in 1631 and apparently never emigrated to America. He died without issue probably previous to the date of his father's will in 1655.
3.* HENRY[2], b. 21 Jan 1610; he emigrated to America with his family in 1630.
4. CHRISTOPHER[2], emigrated to America with his family in 1630; d. 7 Sept 1662; unm. The family homestead was bequeathed to him by his father in 1655. Christopher's estate was divided among his brothers and sisters, Henry receiving the larger share. Sister Anna received a portion of meadow land in Windsor Great Meadows, "Twelve akers more or less." There is an ancient deed to this property. In a deed recorded 23 Apr 1663, Hannah or Anna Griswold, wife of Matthew, received a portion of meadow land in Windsor Great Meadows, "Twelve akers more or less," as part of the portion that fell to her by the last will and testament of her brother Christopher Wolcott. This parcel of land was allowed by her husband, Matthew Griswold, to be recorded in Anna's name "to remain to her and her children and her dispose forever."
5.* GEORGE[2], emigrated to America with his family in 1630.
6. ANNA[2], b. 1620, England; d. between Sept 1700-May 1701. There is no record of her death and her burial place is unknown. m. 16 Oct 1646, Matthew Griswold (Lt.), b. 1618, England; d. 27 Sept 1698, at his home; son of George Griswold. Matthew was exceedingly kind and gentle to his family. He was a lawyer and was trained as a mason. He furnished the stone for the grave of his father-in-law, Henry[1] Wolcott. This stone was designed to resemble the trunk which Henry Wolcott carried on his voyage to America.

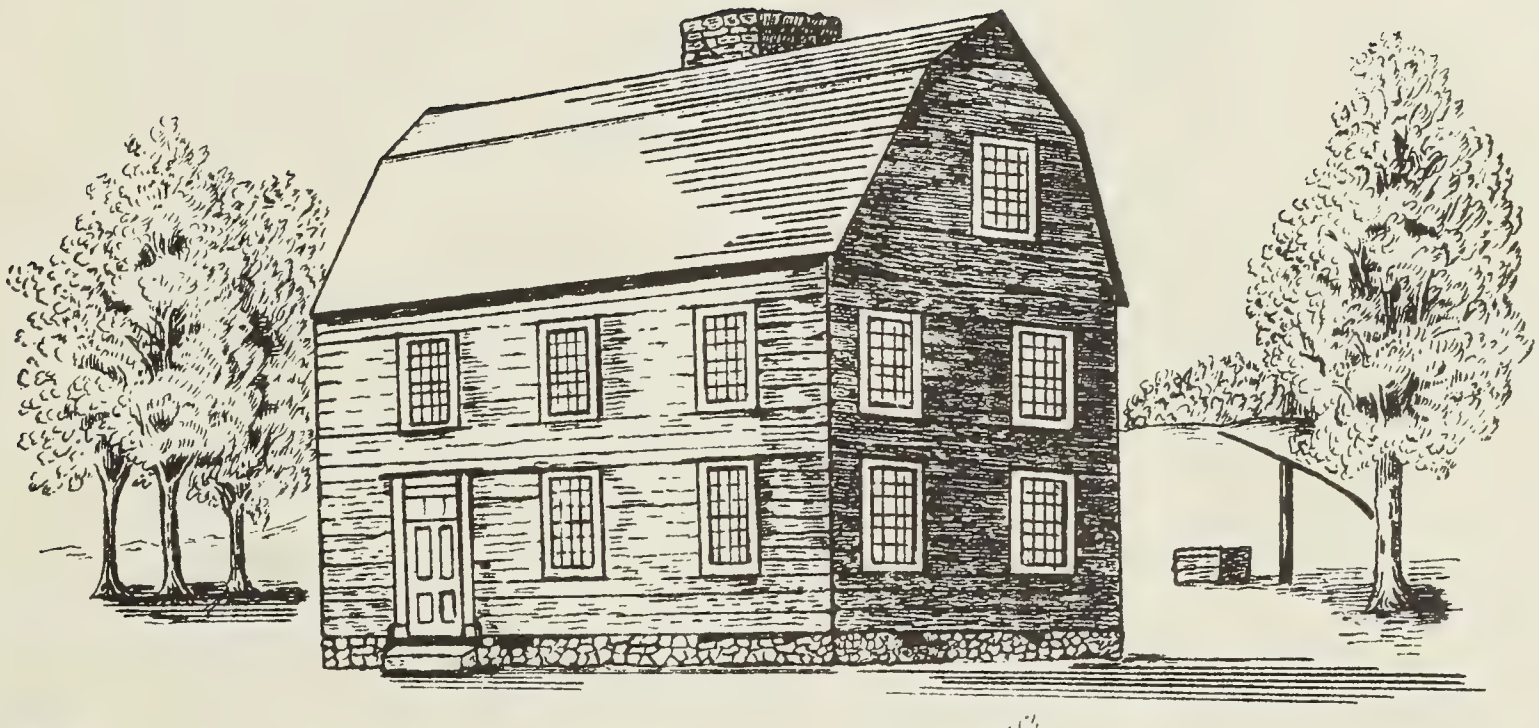
John was buried upon the bank of the Thames River within the bounds of his farm, where he had reserved a burial place. The marriage rite of Elizabeth and John was performed by her father.



Home of John and Elizabeth[3] Rogers, New London, Connecticut.

A written marriage contract left John's farm at upper Mamacock to his wife in the event of his death or separation from her during life. In May 1675 Elizabeth appeared before the General Court to request a divorce upon the grounds of her husband's heterodoxy (founding a sect called Rogerene Quakers) and immoral behavior. After a delay of nearly one and one half years, the court granted her petition. Elizabeth m.(2) 5 Aug 1679, Lyme, CT, Peter Pratt, d. 24 March 1688; m.(3) c. 1690, Matthew Beckwith, b. 1637; d. 4 June 1727. He was a seaman. His will mentions the seven children by his first marriage and his beloved daughter Grissell and her husband, Eliakim Cooley. Grissell was left the land that had been willed to her by her grandfather Matthew Griswold.

DEED OF GALDON MANOR
By Henry[1] Wolcott to his son Henry[2]

The estate appears to have been largely, if not wholly, that which was conveyed by Robert Mynne to Christopher Wolcott. The last-named condition, requiring the wife, if she survived her husband, to relinquish her legal interest in the estate, was obviously designed to allow it to pass unencumbered to the eldest son in succession, in accordance with the English law of entail. This will appear more fully in the account of the third generation. [See -9- on p. 107.]

Henry Wolcott was in England on business in 1654. He was one of nineteen gentlemen named in the Charter of Connecticut. He was elected a member of the House of Deputies in 1660 and to the House of Magistrates in 1662 and for successive terms until his death.

In 1857 Dr. J. Hammond Trumbull was attracted to a vellum-covered volume of about four hundred pages in the Connecticut Historical Society. The document was closely written in shortland which Trumbull deciphered. They were notes of sermons and lectures delivered in Windsor and Hartford between April, 1638 and May, 1641.

The writer's name is not given, but his birthday is noted on the first leaf in the volume with the words, "the day I was born was the 21st of January 1610." This and other evidence identify the writer as Henry Wolcott, Jr. The only record of his birth is found among these hieroglyphics.

The alphabet made use of is nearly the same as that of Willis (published in 1607). Mr. Wolcott kept records in his shorthand volume of his fruit cultivation and of several tenants of his estate in England, which his father had bequeathed to him. He was prominent in church, town, and state affairs.

GEORGE[2] WOLCOTT (Henry[1]) Emigrated to America with his parents in 1630; was made a freeman by the General Court of Connecticut 2 May 1657; d. 12 Feb 1662, Wethersfield, CT; m. c. 1649, Elizabeth Treat, b. 25 July 1627, Pitsminster, England; d. c. 1662, Wethersfield, CT; dau. of Richard and Alice (Gaylord) Treat. George came from Windsor to Wethersfield, CT with his wife Elizabeth probably soon after 1650; 1655 received his house with 12-1/2 acres on the west side of High Street between Richard Butler and Thomas Curtis. It was known as the Old John Whitmore House. George was constable in 1657. His will dated 9 Jan 1662, probated 10 Aug 1663, left his holdings to his wife, Elizabeth, to be passed on to his son George.

SIMON[2] WOLCOTT (Henry[1]), b. 11 Sept 1624, England; five years old when his father emigrated to America. Simon remained in England with his two sisters until the family had effected a settlement in America. He came to America between 1630 and 1640, the exact date of his arrival being uncertain. He was admitted a freeman in 1654; d. 11 Sept 1687, Windsor, CT; m.(1) 19 March 1657, Joanna Cook, b. 5 Aug 1638; d. 27 Apr 1657; dau. of Aaron Cook, one of the first settlers of Windsor; m.(2) 17 Oct 1661, Windsor, CT, Martha Pitkin, described in Windsor records as "late from England," b. 1639, England; d. 13 Oct 1719, Windsor, CT; dau. of Rev. William J. and Elizabeth Pitkin.

Mrs. Martha Wolcott was the sister of William Pitkin, Esq. of East Hartford, Attorney-General and Treasurer of the colony. According to tradition and thought to be true, while on a visit to her brother, Martha accepted a proposal of marriage from Simon Wolcott made at the suggestion of leading men of the colony.

Simon purchased the house lot of Goodman Whitehead opposite the residence of Simon's father on the meadow road to Hartford. In April 1671 Simon Wolcott sold his place in Windsor to the Saunders brothers, removed to his farm in Simsbury, later returned to Windsor, and in 1680 settled on his land on the eastern side of the Connecticut River in the present town of South Windsor. He was buried in the Windsor churchyard.

His widow, Martha Pitkin Wolcott, m.(2) 1689, Hon. Daniel Clarke, Esq., of Henry[3] Wolcott was elected a member of the House of Deputies in 1686 and subsequently served for many years as the Town Clerk of Windsor.

Real estate in his possession--left in England by the first Henry Wolcott and given by will to the eldest surviving son, the second Henry Wolcott, and then to his eldest son, the third Henry Wolcott--was sold in 1787 by Henry Allyn, Esq., for £ 850 sterling. As the third Henry Wolcott died without male issue surviving, his estate reverted to the heirs of his daughters, Mrs. Allyn and Mrs. Chauncy. Their claim was contested by the heirs in the male line. The suit, involving the question of recognition of the English law of primogeniture and entail, was watched with interest in the colony. The claim of the Wolcotts was disallowed, the decision causing some unpleasant feeling in the family. [See p.64.]

Henry[3] Wolcott (Lt.) was one of the original proprietors of Tolland and Wellington, CT.

THE OLD WOLCOTT HOMESTEAD IN SOUTH WINDSOR

The four sons of Simon[2] Wolcott [p. 66] located themselves on the main street in East, now South, Windsor. The two eldest, Simon and Henry, located about one mile south of the meeting house, the latter on the west side of the street. The third, William, was about a quarter of a mile further north on the same side and the fourth, Roger, lived about a third of a mile north of the meeting house, also on the west side of the street. The Wolcott residence occupied the site of the house of Simon's second son, Henry[3], and the materials from Henry's[1] house were used in the construction of the Wolcott homestead. It stood on a knoll or ridge fronting the east and survived the longest of all the early Wolcott homes. The great elm tree stood in the street opposite.

Roger Wolcott (1679-1767) was a Representative of South Windsor in the Connecticut general assembly in 1709; raised to the bench of justices in 1710; accompanied expedition against Canada in 1711; elected member of council in 1714; Judge of County Court in 1724; Judge of Superior Court, 1732; Deputy Governor and Chief-Justice of Supreme Court, 1741. In expedition against Louisbourg in 1745 he was commissioned Major General by Governor Shirley of Massachusetts and was second in command to Pepperell. He arrived at Cape Breton with the troops 30 April and 17 June the city of Louisbourg capitulated and the provincial forces entered it. Governor of Connecticut, 1750-54.

In addition to his political activities he published three pieces or works. The first was poetical, his second publication was ecclesiastical, and his third political. He also wrote an account of the Pequot War in verse.

The Rev. Samuel Wolcott in the Memorial says: "We have no portrait of him. In one of the political squibs of the day he is referred to as 'Stately, smoking Roger.' For the following description of his public appearance, in his official costume, we are indebted, through a friend (Hon. Isaac W. Stuart), to a lady in Wethersfield, Miss Marsh, the daughter of a venerable clergyman long since deceased, who gives it as she received it from her mother, who had often seen him in her childhood: 'He was a visitor at her father's, and the costume of an officer under the regal government was too imposing to pass unnoticed. Several times a week he rode out on horseback, and never appeared abroad but in full-dress. He wore a suit of scarlet broadcloth. The coat was made long, with wide skirts, and trimmed down the whole length in front with gilt buttons, and broad gilt vellum button-holes, two or three inches in length. The cuffs were large and deep, reaching nearly to the elbows, and were ornamented, like the sides of the coat, as were also the pocket-lids, with gilt vellum button-holes and buttons. The waistcoat had skirts, and was richly embroidered. Ruffles at the bosom and over the hands were of lace. He had a flowing wig, and a three-cornered hat with a cockade; and rode slowly and stately a large black horse, whose tail swept the ground.'

"A little north of his residence in South Windsor was a public road to the river, where he owned a ferry, connecting with Plymouth Meadow on the other side, the right of which was granted him by the General Court, in 1725. His house was about a third of a mile north of the present meeting-house. He built it in 1704, the year of the attack on Deerfield, and the walls of the front room were covered with a painting descriptive of that scene. The house was taken down a few years since, and some of the panels which belonged to that apartment are preserved in the neighborhood as relics. He spent the last years of his life with his daughters. Mrs. Newberry, in Old Windsor, and was buried there with his fathers, although his home had been on the other side of the river. His estate was inventoried at £ 1,805, 4s, 2d., and was distributed among his surviving sons and daughters, and the children of his deceased son Roger."

TANKARD AND CUP

The silver tankard and silver cup mentioned in Roger's will, which remain in the family, bear each an engraving of the Wolcott arms and also the initials RWS. The church in South Windsor has two valuable communion cups of silver, which he ordered from England and presented to the church, one bearing his own initials, the other his wife's initials, with the date: "R.W. 1756;" "S.W. 1756." It is not improbable that all these pieces were procured at the same time.

TABLECLOTH AND DOCKET

A tablecloth bearing Roger's initials and used by him at the time of the siege of Louisburg and a docket, kept in his handwriting, of the cases which came before him as magistrate were in 1879 in the possession of Rev. Wolcott B. Williams of the Seventh Generation, residing at Charlotte, Michigan. The docket, a book with a substantial binding and written in the lasting ink of the period, is a matchless heirloom.

An obituary appeared in the Connecticut Courant of 27 July succeeding entitled "Memoirs of the Life and Character of the Honorable Roger Wolcott, Esq., late Governor of Connecticut" (portions are omitted).

"This great and good man was descended from honorable parents. He was one of those happy few whose minds seem to be formed with an original strength and force, not to be suppressed by misfortune or want of exterior advantages; and though this did not appear early, yet, like the hidden gem in the mountain, was daily ripening, in due time to be produced to light, polished, and make a shining appearance in many exalted stations in life.

"As soon as he left his master, he was determined to have a liberal education, if possible, but on taking an inventory of his estate, he found it not to amount to fifty pounds, so he was obliged to drop that design; but, still unalterably determined not to remain in a state of ignorance, he borrowed such books as he could get, and read with attention; and, having a retentive memory and solid natural judgment, what he read he retained, digested, and made his own. He got an acquaintance with men of the best abilities of his time, and by an indefatigable industry and application got acquainted with most branches of literature; for he was an exact chronologer, well acquainted with history, ecclesiastical and civil, and geography both ancient and modern, and with the Newtonian philosophy, and most of the curious discoveries of the moderns.

"He had a taste for the Belles Lettres; and some poetical pieces he has left behind, to show that, had his Genious been well cultivated, he might have made a considerable figure among the Sons of the Muses.

"But the law and arts of government were his favorite study. Accordingly, he soon made his appearance at the barr, where he distinguished himself so far as to be soon called into public employment.

"He filled the post of Governor, as he had the rest, to good acceptance, till the affair of the Spanish ship, a considerable part of whose rich cargo being embezzled through the indolence, inadequateness, and inattention of the Spanish merchant, the freemen were by some designing person made to believe that the loss was occasioned through Governor Wolcott's fault, and that the people must be taxed for repayment.

"He retired with composed, unruffled grandeur, cheerfully referring it to Divine Providence to find means to evidence that innocence that he had an inward consciousness of; nor were his expectations disappointed, for we suppose every one is now fully convinced that that affair was well conducted,--and that to a wonder, considering its suddenness, and the little acquaintance this Colony had in affairs of this nature.

"After his retirement from public life, he divided his time between devotion, reading (which was principally church history, and the works of the most celebrated divines, especially Doct. Owen and Doct. Bates), agriculture,--his beloved employ,--and the enjoyment of his friends.

"And though his constitution was excellent, yet as he knew that, in the course of nature, the time of his departure was at hand, his great and constant business was to stand with his loyns girt and his lamp burning, waiting for the coming of his Lord. Thus he lived till about the middle of April last, when he compalined of a disorder in his legs, which soon turned of a livid color, his strength from that time declining fast, till Sunday, May 17th, on which day, about noon, his constitution (firm as it was), not being able to longer support itself, sunk under the weight of old age, he being then in the eighty-ninth year of his age.

"His funeral was, aggreeable to his own directions, attended without much pomp or show; at which time the Hon. Deputy Governor Trumball, and Hezekiah Huntington, Esq., from the Upper House, and eight of the principal members from the Lower House being specially appointed for that purpose by the General Assembly, then sitting in Hartford, attended, and delivered a message to the mourners, wherein they did honor to the wisdom, patriotic spirit, religion, and virtue that adorned his life, and expressed their full approbation of his public services in the various posts he sustained in this Colony.

"His body was strong and well proportioned, his countenance and deportment particularly adapted to command reverence and esteem; his wit was ready, and uncommonly bright; his method of reasoning (free from sophistry) was clear, nervous, and manly, as became a generous inquirer after truth, and not a noisy wrangler for victory only. He was a sincere, unfailing friend to every industrious, virtuous, honest man, who acted his part well, whatever was his station in life; but the indolent sluggard, and soft enervated, unexerting debauchee was his aversion. All persons of true piety were his delight. He was a true friend to regular and firm government, and was an equal enemy to tyranny on the one hand, and licentiousness on the other. He thought that the practice of industry, economy, frugality, and temperance was the only way to relieve this Colony, and America in general, from their present distresses, and therefore was often recommending them.

"He was a wise legislator and an able statesman. While he was a judge, he held the balance of justice with a steady unwavering hand; and being far superior to venality, or the influence of personal, family, or party connections, he pronounced the law impartially, on all the cases brought before him. As a governor he appeared to advantage; this was his proper element, for he seemed originally formed to govern. He was a kind and provident husband and parent. His moral character was unblemished, his religion and piety were unaffected; and he died as he had long lived, a member of the Second Church in Windsor. In short, we take this to be one of the few lives spent in so useful and exemplary a manner, that 'tis worth while to hold it up in view of the world, as being in general worthy of their imitation."

SAMUEL[4] WOLCOTT (Captain) (Samuel[3], Henry[2], Henry[1]), b. 11 Apr 1679; d. 15 Sept 1734; m. 27 Dec 1705, Abigail Collins, b. 31 July 1681; d. 6 Feb 1758; dau. of Nathaniel Collins of Middletown. Captain Samuel Wolcott, when a youth, lived for a time with his uncle, Josiah Wolcott, Esq., of Salem, MA, who expresses a favorable opinion of Samuel in one of his letters. The death of Samuel's father while he was yet a lad of sixteen years and the eldest of eight children devolved upon him a special charge, which seems to have interrupted his education. He commanded a military company, was an importing merchant, and appears to have been wealthy for his time. The items in his inventory amounted to £5,097, 2s., 10 d. It is reported "that the 'Worshipful' Samuel Wolcott built and occupied the mansion [on Wolcott Hill] which afterwards became famous as the Washington Headquarters in Wethersfield [CT.]." He commanded a military company during Queen Ann's War, HTFD-CNTX, DTP Dragoons. His tombstone, in the Wethersfield churchyard, is a handsome brown stone monument supported by five columns and bearing the Wolcott family coat of arms on the table top.

The following notices of the life of Gov. Oliver Wolcott, Sr. (1726-1797), are copied from family documents. The original sketch, published in Sanderson's Biography of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence (III, 63-67), is among these papers, having been drawn up by his son, the late Gov. Oliver Wolcott, Jr.

On leaving College, he received a commission as Captain in the Army, from Gov. George Clinton, of New York, and immediately raised a company, at the head of which he marched to the defence of the Northern Frontiers, where he served until the Regiment to which he was attached was disbanded, in consequence of the peace of Aix-la-Chapelle. He then returned to Connecticut and studied medicine, under the direction of his Brother, Dr. Alexander Wolcott, then a distinguished practitioner. Before he was established in practice, the County of Litchfield was organized, and he was appointed the first sheriff of the county, in 1751. He settled in Litchfield, and was a representative of the Town in the General Assembly. In the year 1774, he was chosen an Assistant or Councillor, to which station he was annually elected till the year 1786. While a member of the Council, he was also Chief Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for the County, and for many years Judge of the Court of Probate for the district of Litchfield. He served in the militia, in every grade of office, from that of Captain to that of Major-General. On all the questions preliminary to the Revolutionary War he was a firm advocate of the American cause.

Philadelphia Feb.y 1.st 1806

Sir,

I have the pleasure to have received with your letter of the 21.st Ult.o announcing the death of Mr. Huntington, late Governor of Connecticut. —

At the same time that I regret the loss of so worthy a character, I cannot but feel consoled, that the administration of the Government of that State has fallen into such good hands as yours. — And tho' I pray you to accept my sincere thanks for the assurance therein given of your readiness to observe the relationship which it bears to the general Government.

I feel equally obliged by the expression of your concern for the attacks which have been made upon my administration. — If the enlightened, and virtuous part of the Community will make allowances for my involuntary errors, I can promise they shall have no cause to accuse me of wilful ones. — Hoping for for the first, I feel no concern on account of the latter. —

Your Son, as far as my knowledge of him extends, is a very deserving character. — He discharges the duties of his Office with integrity and ability, and, I am persuaded, may bid defiance to all those who seem to be continually on the lookout for occasions (without being at the trouble to investigate facts) to arraign the conduct of public Officers. —

With great esteem & respect
I am — Sir
Yr Obed. H. Bl. Serv.
G. Washington

The Hon. Oliver Wolcott

Wolcott Genealogy, 1912

The oldest house now standing (1976) in Litchfield, Connecticut, was built in 1752–53 by Oliver Wolcott on a tract of land inherited from his father, Governor Roger Wolcott, one of the original proprietors of Litchfield. The house is a simple central chimney type. Oliver Wolcott, its builder, had a long and distinguished career. He was a Signer of the Declaration of Independence, a Member of the Committee of Safety, and a Brigadier General with the American Forces. Later, he was a member of the Continental Congress and Governor of Connecticut, a post also held by his father before him and his son after him. In this house he entertained George Washington, the Marquis de Lafayette, Alexander Hamilton, and many other Revolutionary heroes. When the enraged patriots tore down the bronze statue of George III in New York's Bowling Green, it was smuggled to Litchfield in an ox-cart. In the apple orchard behind this house the statue was melted down and molded into innumerable bullets by the ladies of the Wolcott family and their zealous friends.

At the Town Meeting held in Litchfield, Aug 17, 1774, to consider the Resolutions of the Legislature, on the subject of the Boston Port Bill, he presided, and drew up the eloquent preamble and resolutions then adopted, which we give in their place.

He was chosen a member of the Continental Congress, and in July 1775, was appointed by that body one of the Commissioners of Indian affairs for the Northern Department,--a trust of great importance, its object being to induce the Indian nations to remain neutral during the war. While he was engaged in this business, the controversies respecting the boundaries between Connecticut and Pennsylvania, and between New York and Vermont, menaced the tranquillity of the Colonies, and exposed them to the seductions of British partisans. His influence was exerted with great effect to compromise these disputes, and to unite the New England settlers in support of the American cause.

In January, 1776, he attended at Philadelphia the session of Congress at which the Declaration of Independence was adopted, of which he was one of the Signers. In this connection Barlow thus refers to him in his poem, the "Vision of Columbus:"

> Bold Wolcott urged the all-important cause,
> With steady hand the solemn scene he draws;
> Undaunted firmness with his wisdom joined,
> Nor Kings nor Worlds could warp his steadfast mind.

During the session he returned to Connecticut. He carried with him from the city of New York the leaden statue of King George III, which was converted into bullets at Litchfield, under his direction. On the 15th of August, he was appointed by Governor Trumbull and the Council of Safety to command fourteen Regiments of the Connecticut Militia, which were ordered for the defence of New York. This duty he performed, till the force, amounting to more than five thousand men, was subdivided into four brigades. He then returned home for a few weeks.

In November, 1776, he resumed his seat in Congress, and accompanied that Body to Baltimore, during the eventful winter of 1777.

On the 17th of January, he was appointed by the General Assembly of Connecticut Brigadier-General, and was constantly employed, the ensuing summer, in superintending detachments of militia, and corresponding on military subjects. After detaching several thousand men to the assistance of General Putnam on the North River, he headed a corps of between three and four hundred volunteers, who joined the Northern Army under General Gates, and took command of a Brigade of Militia, and aided in reducing the British Army under General Burgoyne. From February to July, 1778, he attended Congress at Yorktown.

In the summer of 1779, he was in the field at the head of a Division of Militia, for the defence of the sea-coast. During the severe winter of 1779-80, famine added its terrors to excessive cold. The deep snows in the mountain region of the State, and the explosion of the paper system, rendered it almost impossible to procure the necessaries of life. Connecticut had been in the foremost ranks of the supporters of the war; she had contributed freely from her narrow resources, and the blood of her sons had moistened every battlefield. And now, when cold and hunger threatened their utmost rigors, and a dark cloud hung over the fate of the country, the courage of her citizens failed not. The records of her Towns--the votes of recruits to the army and of bread to the suffering--showed that she had counted the cost of the struggle, and was ready to meet it. It may well be supposed that the resources of so zealous an advocate for the war as General Wolcott were not withheld. Every dollar that could be spared from the maintenance of the family was expended in raising and supplying men; every blanket not in actual use was sent to the Army, and the sheets were torn into bandages or cut into lint by the hands of his wife and daughters. From 1781 to 1783, he occasionally attended Congress. In 1784 and 1785, he was one of the Commissioners of Indian Affairs for the Northern Department, and in concert with Richard Butler and Arthur Lee prescribed the terms of peace to the Six Nations of Indians. His military services, his known probity and judgement, his ardent attachment to the Republican cause, and his social standing, all contributed to give him an extended influence, which was faithfully exerted for the public good. From the beginning to the end of the Revolutionary War, he was constantly engaged, either in the Council or in the field.

In 1786, he was elected Lieutenant-Governor of Connecticut, and annually thereafter, until he was chosen Governor. In November 1787, he was chosen a member of the State Convention which adopted the Constitution of the United States. In November 1789, he was further appointed by the State, in connection with Samuel H. Parsons and James Davenport, to hold a treaty with the Wyandottes and other Indians, for extinguishing their title to the Western Reserve of Connecticut.

In the fall of 1796, he was chosen a Presidential Elector, in which capacity he voted for John Adams and Thomas Pinckney. The same year, he was chosen Governor, which office he held until his death, in the seventy-second year of his age.

Such is a brief catalogue of the more important political offices and services of Oliver Wolcott, the elder. During a long and laborious life devoted to public service, he enjoyed the unremitted confidence of his fellow-citizens.

The account in the handwriting of General Wolcott, referring to the statue of George the Third previously mentioned, follows:

The following additional memorandum is in the handwriting of his son, Oliver Wolcott, Jr.:

N.B. An equestrian statue of George the Third of Great Britain, was erected in the city of New York on the Bowling Green, at the lower end of Broadway; most of the materials were lead, but richly gilded to resemble gold. At the beginning of the revolution this statue was overthrown. Lead being then scarce and dear, the statue was broken in pieces, and the metal transported to Litchfield as a place of safety. The ladies of this village converted the lead into cartridges, of which the preceding is an account.

For a careful examination of all the evidence, and a minute list of the authorities relating to this incident, see Woodruff's History of Litchfield.

Of the many letters written by Oliver Wolcott and received by him from prominent men of his day we present a facsimile of one from General Washington.

DEED OF EMANCIPATION

Know all men by these presents, that I, Oliver Wolcott, of Litchfield, in the State of Connecticut, in expectation that my negro servant man, Caesar, will by his industry be able to obtain a comfortable subsistence for himself, and that he will make a proper use of the Freedom which I hereby give him, do discharge, liberate and set free, him, the said Caesar, and do hereby exempt him from any further obligation of servitude to me, my heirs, and every other person claiming any authority over him, by, from, or under me.

And that my said servant, whom I now make free as aforesaid, may be known hereafter by a proper cognomen, I hereby give him the name of Jamus--so that here-after he is to be known and distinguished by the name of Caesar Jamus. As witness my hand and seal in Litchfield, Nov. 23d A. D., 1786.

REVOLUTIONARY RESOLVES OF THE TOWN OF LITCHFIELD, DRAFTED BY Oliver Wolcott, Sen.

At a meeting of the Inhabitants of Litchfield, legally warned and held in Litchfield on the 17th day of August, A. D., 1774.
Oliver Wolcott, Esq., Moderator.

The Inhabitants of Litchfield in legal Town Meeting assembled on the 17th day of August, 1774--taking into Consideration the Distresses to which the Poor of the Town of Boston may likely be reduced by the Operation of an Act of the British Parliament for blocking up their Port, and deeply commiserating the Unhappiness of a brave and loyal People who are thus eminently suffering in a General Cause, for vindicating what every sensible virtuous American considers an essential Right of this Country,--think it their indispensable Duty to afford their unhappy and distressed Brethren of said Town of Boston all reasonable Aid and Support; and this they are the more readily induced to, not only as the Inhabitants of said Town are thus severely condemned for their Reluctance to submit to an arbitrary, an unconsented-to, and consequently unconstitutional Taxation, but the whole of the great and loyal Province of the Massachusetts Bay have been condemned unheard in the Loss of their Charter Privileges by the heretofore unknown and unheard-of exertions of parliamentary Power; which they conceive is a Power claimed and exercised in such a manner as cannot fail of striking every unprejudiced Mind with Horror and Amazement, as being subversive to all those inherent, essential, and constitutional Rights, Liberties, and Privileges which the good People of this Colony have ever held sacred and even dearer than Life itself, nor ever can wish to survive--not only every Idea of Property, but every Emolument of Civil Life, being thereby rendered precarious and uncertain.

In full Confidence, therefore, that no Degree of Evil thus inflicted on said Town and Province will ever induce them to give up or betray their own and the American Constitutional Rights and Privileges, especially as they cannot but entertain the most pleasing Expectations that the Committees of the several North American Provinces, who are soon to meet at Philadelphia, will in their Wisdom be able to point out a Method of Conduct effectual for obtaining Redress of those Grievances--a Method to which (when once agreed upon by said Committees) will look upon it their Duty strictly to attend.

In the mean time, we earnestly recommend that Subscriptions be forthwith opened in this Town under the Care of Reuben Smith, Esq., Capt. Lynde Lord, and Mr. William Staunton, who are hereby appointed a Committee to receive and forward to the Selectmen of Boston, for the use of the Poor in that Place, all such Donations as shall be thereupon made for that Purpose; as also to correspond with the Committee of Correspondence there or elsewhere as there may be occasion. We also take this Opportunity publickly to return our thanks to the Members of the Hon^{ble} House of Representatives of this Colony, for their patriotic and loyal Resolutions passed and published in the last Assembly, on the Occasion, and order them to be entered at large on the public Records of this Town--that succeeding Ages may be faithfully furnished with authentic Credentials of our inflexible Attachment to those inestimable Privileges, which we glory in esteeming our inalienable Birthright and Inheritance.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE LADIES OF HARTFORD

The Ladies in this City, attentive to the impoverished state of their Country, and to the well-founded charge of extravagance in our manner of living, offer to their sisters in this State the following considerations:

1. We consider it as a general truth, that the manners and fashions of every country should be adapted to its particular situation and circumstances.

2. We believe that the English and French fashions, which require the manufacture of an infinite variety of gewgaws and frippery, may be highly beneficial and even necessary in the countries where those articles are made; as they furnish employment and subsistence for poor people.

3. We believe, also, that it is very politic in foreign nations to introduce their fashions into this country, as they thus make a market for their useless manufactures, and enrich themselves at our expense.

4. But we are of the opinion, at the same time, that our implicit submission to the fashions of other countries is highly derogatory to the reputation of Americans, as it renders us dependent on the interest, or caprice, of foreigners, both for taste and manners; it prevents the exercise of our own ingenuity, and makes us the slaves of the milliners and mantua-makers in London or Paris.

5. We consider, also, that this servile imitation of foreign fashions is one of the circumstances which operate to embarass and distress this country.

6. We also consider many of the fashions which now prevail among us as in many respects extremely inconvenient, and consequently as proceeding from a false taste in dress, or a total want of taste.

7. We are of opinion that an attention to industry and economy, among all ages and ranks of people, is an infinitely better way to promote the prosperity, and to relieve the distresses, of this country, than quarrelling with laws, debts, and courts of justice.

Convinced of these truths, and desirous of silencing all complaints of extravagance, and of contributing all in our power to deliver the country from this slavery of fashions, and the consequent expenses and embarrassments, we subscribe the following Articles:

Art. 1. That after the signing of these articles, we will not purchase, or wear, any superfluous articles of dress, such as gauze, ribbons, flowers, feathers, lace, and other trimmings and frippery, designed merely as ornaments.

Art. 2. That we will not purchase the richer kinds of articles which are used as necessary dress; such as silks, muslins, expensive hats, &c., except a single suit for a wedding, or for mourning; but that for the future we will wear on visits, and in public places, such articles only as we have on hand, or newly purchased calicoes and other cheap articles, without ornaments or trimmings.

Art. 3. That we will endeavor to retrench the expenses of visits and entertainments, by not suffering them to interrupt our attention to industry, by reducing the number and price of the articles which furnish our tables, and particularly by giving the preference to such articles of provision as our own country supplies.

Art. 4. That we will not attend a public or private Assembly oftener than once in three weeks.

Art. 5. That we will use our influence to diffuse an attention to industry and frugality, and to render these virtues reputable and permanent.

Conscious to ourselves that our intentions are laudable, and calculated to secure the reputation, the morals, the prosperity, and the social happiness of our Country, we shall pay no regard to any reflections, or ridicule, that may be cast upon our conduct; but now pledge ourselves to each other and to the world, that we will carry these resolutions into practice.

Two portraits of him, duplicates, by Earle, have been preserved. One of these is in the Capitol at Hartford, presented by his grandson, the late Dr. John S. Wolcott. This has been engraved for Sanderson's Lives of the Signers, from a reduced copy of his granddaughter, Mrs. Laura W. Gibbs. The other is in the library of the Connecticut Historical Society, at Hartford, presented by Mrs. Gibbs.

In connection with the preceding sketch of General Wolcott, honorable mention is due to Mrs. Wolcott. During his almost constant absence from home while engaged in the arduous service of the Revolutionary War, she educated their children and conducted the domestic concerns of the family, including the management of a small farm, with a degree of fortitude, perseverance, frugality, and intelligence, equal to which in the best days of ancient Rome distinguished her most illustrious matrons. Without her aid, his public services could not have been rendered, without involving a total sacrifice of the interests of his family; with her aid, his house was a seat of comfort and hospitality and by means of her assistance he retained during life a small estate, a part of which was a patrimonial inheritance.

Her portrait, also by Earle, presents her as a woman of fine countenance and majestic figure, and authenticates the current tradition that in her day she was the most beautiful woman in the village. Her remains lie beneath the same monument with her husband's in the east graveyard of Litchfield.

To the Memory
of
Oliver Wolcott, late Governor
of
the State of Connecticut,
who was born Nov. 20, 1726,
& who died Dec. 1st, 1797.

Also of
Laura Wolcott
who was born Jan 1st, 1732,
& who died Apr 19, 1794. (Epitaph)

On the monument are inscribed the Arms of Wolcott, with the family motto, "Nullius jurare in verba."

JOHN[5] WOLCOTT (Josiah[4], George[3], George[2], Henry[1]), b. 1 July 1759, Saybrook, CT; d. 1824, Pikes' Co., OH; m.(1) 1790, Pine Creek, PA, Sarah, b. CT; d. 1802; dau. of

Daniel; m.(2) 1802, _____, b. 1780. December 7, 1777, John enlisted in Sunbury, PA as a private in the First Pennsylvania Rifle Regiment commanded by Col. Chambers. John was in Capt. James Wilson's Co. John was captured by the British near Montgomery, PA on 29 June 1779 during the Battle of Fort Muncy. The American forces were attacked by 200 British under the command of Capt. John McDonald and 300 Indians under the command of Hickatoo, a veteran Indian chief of the Seneca tribe. Fifty-two American prisoners were taken. The old men and women were released and returned to Fort Augusta, Sunbury, PA. The first night the prisoners were kept in an ash house. After six months in captivity, John was exchanged by the British and rejoined the American army in 1780. He received his discharge in the fall of that year. In his war claim for a pension, which he received in Kentucky on 2 October 1818, it is stated he suffered three wounds during the war: One ball through his right leg, one ball through his left thigh, and one ball which broke his left wrist. He received his last pension in Pike's Co., OH in 1824. From 1776 to 1778, John, Paul, and Silas paid taxes in Baldeagle and Potter townships. John was assessed with 4 cows, 2 horses, and 100 acres of land. Another account states that Paul was assessed 1784-1788. John also served in the War of 1812. He received a pension from his war claim #40634 in Bourbon Co., KY in 1820. John was living in Bourbon Co., KY in 1818 and moved to Bath Co., KY in 1820. Before 1823 he returned from Kentucky to Findlay, OH to his first wife's children. There he died.

Oliver Wolcott (1760-1833) was appointed in 1784, a commissioner to adjust and settle the claim of Connecticut against the United States. Comptroller of public accounts, 1788-89; auditor, 1789-91; Comptroller of the U. S. Treasury, 1791-95; Secretary of the Treasury, succeeding Alexander Hamilton, 1795-1800; appointed Judge of the Second Circuit Court in 1801; later engaged in business; founded Bank of North America and chosen first president 1812-14; Governor of Connecticut 1817-27, being the third of his family in lineal succession to attain that honor. Received honorary degree of LL.D from Brown and Princeton in 1799 and from Yale in 1819.

During the pressing occupations of his public life he never forgot his literary tastes, his retentive memory enabling him to recall long passages of the British poets, with whom he was specially familiar. During this period he became the author of some of the ablest papers in the Records of the State. His annual Messages to the Legislature, his veto of the act known as the Steamboat Bill, his Plan of Taxation, and his Draft of the new Constitution, fully sustained the reputation for ability which he had gained in the Cabinet of Washington.

After his retirement from public life he returned to the City of New York and his few remaining years were passed at the home of his son-in-law, Col. George Gibbs, or in its vicinity. He was buried in Litchfield. The monument in the Litchfield Cemetery bears the Family Arms. He was the last survivor of Washington's Cabinet.

He left behind a valuable collection of manuscripts filling more than fifty folio volumes. They embrace a full correspondence with the able political leaders of his party and the public men of that period--Washington, Hamilton, Ames, Cabot, Ellsworth, Pickering, Griswold, King, Hillhouse, Hopkinson, Quincy, and others--gentlemen in whose confidence he stood high and in whose counsels he actively participated. Volumes embracing a portion of these papers have been published.

The Common Council of the City of New York, on the occasion of his death, unanimously adopted the following resolution 3 June 1833:

> Resolved, That this Board, entertaining a high respect for the Character of the Honorable OLIVER WOLCOTT, late Governor of the State of Connecticut, lately deceased, will attend his Funeral; and that a Copy of this Resolution be furnished by the Clerk to the Family of the deceased.

Several portraits of him exist, One is by Colonel Trumbull and was painted for the Hon. Josiah Quincy of Boston and bequeathed by him to Professor Wolcott Gibbs of Harvard University. Another, painted by Gilbert Stuart, is in the Capitol at Hartford and another, painted by R. Earle, is in the library of the Connecticut Historical Society, Hartford. A later portrait is a crayon sketch, by Rembrandt Peale, of much value as a likeness, taken, it is said, while the Governor was delivering his Inaugural Address to the Legislature. An admirable bust, executed after his death by Mr. S. V. Clevenger, is in the possession of the family.

Soon after leaving college Frederick Wolcott (1767-1837) entered upon the study of the Law, but was prevented by ill-health from engaging in its practice. He was appointed Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas in 1793, and in 1798 Clerk of the Superior Court of Litchfield Co., then first established. These offices he held until 1836, and on his resignation the County Court issued a special order expressing "their most unqualified approbation of the fidelity, integrity, and courtesy with which he has performed the various duties of the office." In 1796 he was also appointed Judge of Probate of the District, which last post he retained until his death. He was a Representative of the Town in the General Assembly, and in 1808 he was chosen one of the Presidential Electors. He was elected a member of the State Senate in 1810 and annually thereafter until 1823. During the last six years of his service as Senator, he was one of the Fellows of Yale College--his brother, as Governor of the State, being at the same time a member of the Board. Monument in Litchfield Cemetery bears the arms of Wolcott Family.

ELISHA[6] WOLCOTT (Elisha[5], Samuel[4], Samuel[3], Henry[2], Henry[1]), b. 2 Oct 1755; d. 17 Jan 1827, Wethersfield, CT; m. 19 Jan 1775, Mary Wells, a cousin, b. 4 Feb 1756; d.

6 Oct 1828. He was a hat maker at the outbreak of the Revolution and in the first flush of manhood. Like a true patriot, he offered his service to the cause of American independence. He became a soldier in Capt. Hammer's Co. and participated in the conflict at NY. After serving gallantly for some time, General Washington sent him home from the Army to make hats for the Continental soldiers. These hats were made in a shed in the rear of his dwelling. This house and shed were built by Samuel Wolcott about 1750. This house stands today (1976) at 381 Wolcott Hill Road, Wethersfield, CT.

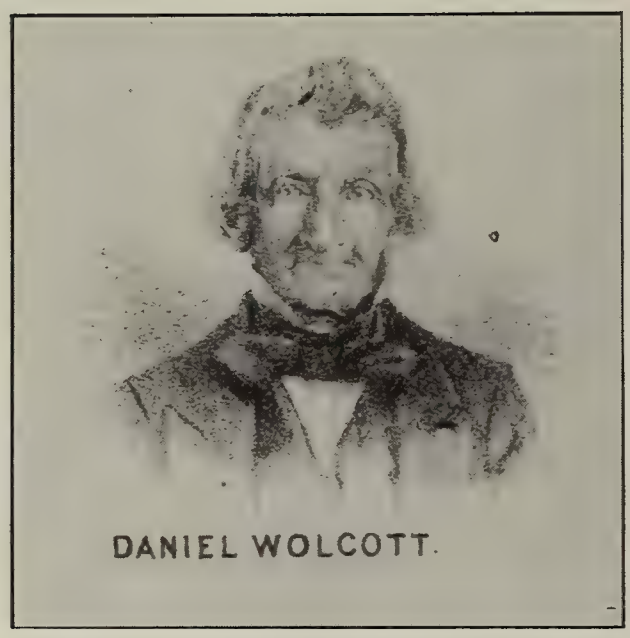
DANIEL[7] WOLCOTT (Elisha[6], Elisha[5], Samuel[4], Samuel[3], Henry[2], Henry[1]), b. 29 Jan 1790, Wethersfield, CT; d. 15 Dec 1859, Wethersfield, NY; m. 9 Feb 1809, Wethersfield, CT, Maria Morgan, b. 11 Aug 1788; d. 26 Feb 1883, Wethersfield, NY; dau. of Stephen and Mary (Douglas) Morgan of Wethersfield, CT. In Feb 1811, Daniel went to western part of New York and bought 150 acres on lots 31 and 39 in Wyoming County, NY. In March 1812, he left CT and brought his wife and two sons Walter F. and Daniel M., the latter being only five months old, to their new home. They came in an ox-drawn covered wagon in which was placed a high-back rocking chair in which Mrs. Wolcott rode with the five-month-old babe upon her lap. Daniel brought poplar tree roots with him and planted them in Wethersfield, NY. There are some of these trees still (1976) growing. They marked his homestead and the place has always been called Poplar Tree Corners. When first arriving, Daniel had to cut his way a long distance through the forest to his property. A log house was built and had only half a roof for a time. This roof was covered with bark stripped from trees.



Daniel Wolcott
(1790–1859)

Maria Wolcott
(1788-1883)

The Parents Of:

The floor was made from split logs and a blanket served as a door. Daniel later walked twelve miles through dense forest to a sawmill and carried to his home upon his back boards for a door. He made two trips back to his birthplace in CT. He was appointed Commissioner of Deeds by the Governor, and for fifteen years held offices as assessor, town clerk, and supervisor for the Town of Wethersfield, Wyoming Co., NY.

David[9] Wolcott Kendall, b. 11 Oct 1851, Rochester, NY; d. 16 Feb 1910; m.(1) 1881, Della Colby, d. 1899; m.(2) 5 Nov 1900, Helen E. Miller; dau. of James and Mary Ada (Smith) Miller of Grand Rapids, MI. David died in City of Mexico on a return trip from Yucatan. He attended school until 18, spending latter years at Canandaigua, NY Academy. Started work as a designer in a furniture factory in Rochester, NY, studying evenings in architecture, wood engraving, sculpture, and modeling. Res: Grand Rapids, 1885. A designer for Phoenix Furniture Co. and later made treasurer. His designs were of such grace and excellence he soon became known as the dean of the world's furniture designers. His ability and high order of intelligence in subjects of art and history gained him ready entrance into artistic circles. A little over a year previous to death he visited the Orient. His home was filled with rare and beautiful curios picked up on his travels. Though rather exclusive in his friendship, those to whom he gave his confidence found him an intensely interesting man.

As a craftsman he was daring in his originality. His venturesome skill is largely responsible for the vogue of metal parts and other carving substitutes in wood ornamentation. He was first to bring out antique oak, the sixteenth century and early English finishes, including cremona, malachite or forest green and tobacco brown. Had he been able to control by patents the different finishes he had introduced, he would have made a fortune. He brought out the McKinley chair, designed on simple lines, spacious and comfortable. This had a great sale and is said to be the real basis for modern arts and crafts furniture.

He was an accomplished furniture designer, carver, mechanic, clay worker, sculptor, artist in oil and water colors, photographer, musician and scientist, a chemist in wood stains and finishes, an anatomist, literary and art critic, historian and bibliophile. His name will be long remembered in the history of furniture.

EPAPHRAS[7] WOLCOTT (James[6], Epaphras[5], Roger[4], Roger[3], Simon[2], Henry[1]), b. 7 Apr 1789; d. 25 Aug 1852; m. 25 May 1811, Naomi Paul, b. 19 Aug 1791; d. 11 Nov 1853; dau. of Lemuel Paul of Bloomfield, NY. At 18 Epaphras left Springfield Armory, MA and walked to NYS. It is related that being in doubt which way to turn he threw his cane over his shoulder and went in the direction indicated. Settled in Bloomfield, Ontario Co., where his older brother, Anson, came several years later.

Moved to Rochester, NY in 1827, and built a family homestead upon the high Eastern bank of the Genesee River overlooking the village. Early directories of Rochester, NY mention "Wolcott Tavern" built 1830 for Epaphras Wolcott, who founded the Wolcott Distilleries in Rochester in 1827. A large frame house painted white still standing on S.W. Cor. Mt. Hope Ave. & Clarissa front much as it was in 1830--eleven years before Clarissa St. bridge was built--when the forst came to the very door of the house. Epaphras was a man of much character and natural ability. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and was often called upon to speak at public meetings.

William Prescott, in command of American troops at Battle of Bunker Hill.

Roger was Class Orator and graduate Harvard College, 1870; Harvard Law School graduate, 1874; member Boston Common Council, 1877-9; Representative in State Legislature, 1882-4; first President of Republican Club of MA, 1891. Lt. Gov. of MA 1893-6, being acting Governor for most of latter year, Governor 1897-9. Declined a position on Philippine Commission in 1900 and an appointment as U.S. Ambassador to Italy. Held membership in MA Historical Society; Society of the Cincinnati; Loyal Legion and Society of Colonial Wars. An overseer of Harvard Uni. 1885-95, and Director and trustee in many business and charitable organizations. Received honorary degree of LL.D from Williams College, 1897. Res: Boston, MA (summer home at Milton, MA).

He was bound in many ways by ties of affection and sympathy to thousands of men, women and children throughout the Commonwealth of MA. There is a statue of him in the State House in Boston, erected by popular subscription.

Of him it has been written by Bishop William Lawrence, who was his friend for more than forty years, "There was that about him which defies analysis, which eludes definition, but which is found in those rare characters, who, like Philip Sydney, Chevalier Bayard, or Robert Louis Stevenson, gain our confidence, win our admiration, kindle our affection, and who, in their unconsciousness, make us conscious that we are in chivalric company. He was a practical New Englander with a dash of idealism without which no New England Character is complete. From boyhood he gained the affection of all sorts of people. He drank deep, in poems, history, and the Bible, of Chivalric life. In form and countenance, in presence and atmosphere, he was of nature's noblest." (From Roger Wolcott by William Lawrence).

The following eulogy was delivered 1901 in Boston by U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of MA: "We here have one of the rare instances of a family which starting in America with a man of fortune and good estate always retained its position in the community. In the main line at least it never encountered the vicissitudes which attain nearly all families in the course of two hundred and fifty years. The name never dropped out of sight, but was always borne up by its representatives in the same place in society as that held by the founder. More remarkable still, in almost every generation there was at least one of the lineal male descendants of the first immigrants who rose to the very highest positions in military, political and Judicial life. The list of judges, governors, cabinet officers and members of Congress in this pedigree is a long and striking one. From the days of the Somersetshire gentlemen to those of the present generation, which has given a Governor to Massachusetts and a brilliant Senator from Colorado to the United States, the Wolcotts both as soldiers and civilians, have rendered service to their country, eminent as it has been unbroken. War and Statecraft were in the blood of this race, and can we wonder that they have found fitting exemplars in our own time? It is not a name made illustrious by some single ancestor in a dim past and suffered to rust unused by descendants who were content with the possession of a trade-mark. Here is a long roll of honor where the son felt that he would be unworthy of his father if he did not add fresh lustre to the name he bore by service to his state and country, either in the hour of trial or in the pleasant paths of peace."

SOLLIS[8] ALCANDOR WOLCOTT (Milton[7], Thomas[6], Josiah[5], John[4], Josiah[3], Henry[2], Henry[1]), b. 8 Sept 1824, Barnett, VT; d. 5 Feb 1905, Gilmore City, IA; m. 7 Feb 1850, Boston, MA, Louisa Angeline Morey, b. 20 Nov 1827, Chelsea, VT; d. 14 May 1909, Gilmore City, IA; dau. of Daniel and Eunice (Fullum) Morey.

Sollis was raised on a farm. At the age of 21 he went to Boston. Three years later he secured a job braking on the Boston & Worcester RR. After his marriage, he tried farming near Chelsea, VT. for a year but his natural love for the railroad was too strong and he returned to the road. He was soon appointed a conductor on the Vermont Central, where he remained until 1857, when he moved to Floyd, IA. There he farmed two years and then ran a grocery store for two years. He then sold out, returned to VT and entered the service of the Vermont Central RR Co., where he remained until 1863. He returned to IA. In the spring of 1864 he went to Dubuque and was a train master with the Dubuque & Sioux City line. In 1871 he was appointed assistant superintendent of the Chicago & Minnesota River Road. He held that position until 1888, when he moved to Gilmore City, IA, to improve a farm and be with his family.

Sollis was concerned about the number of his relatives and friends who were killed and injured hooking railway cars together to form a train. The result of his meditations on the subject resulted in an idea for an automatic coupler for train cars. To improve on his idea, he had two railway cars made on which he installed his couplers (prior to this time train cars were hooked together with chains). However, Sollis showed his invention to some friends, who obtained a patent on the invention before Sollis.

His work on the device was done between 1881 and 1888 while he was working for the Chicago-Milwaukee & St. Paul RR. After leaving the railroad in 1888, Sollis and his wife lived for a time with their son Sollis Alfred Wolcott. When they moved to Gilmore City, IA, to retire, the model railway cars were left with Sollis Alfred.

One family story has it that Sollis Alcandor returned home one morning carrying two large bundles. He was weeping and asked his wife to call in all the children from playing, which she did. He is to have said: "Children, a terrible thing has happened to our Country. Abraham Lincoln has been shot and is dead." After trying to explain this tragedy to the children, he opened the two bundles he brought home and said: "We will all decorate our house inside and out with this black cloth bunting to honor Lincoln," which they did. At the sight of black bunting on the outside of the Wolcott home, some little Johnny-rebs came over to inquire what had happened. The children told them that Lincoln had been shot and killed. The young rebels expressed their approval of the shooting whereupon the Wolcott children chased the rebs out of the house and gave them a good licking.

Before he was 3 years old, Chauncey's parents moved to Wells, VT. When 9 years old, his parents separated and divorced. He was apprenticed to a Mr. Gould Stiles. Chauncey lived with Stiles 11 years. During this time he read all the books he could get ahold of. He earned some extra money and bought a dictionary and a geography. At age 19 he was hired to teach school. He began with 15 students and ended the winter term with 35. The next spring he married Lydia Stiles, daughter of his old master. He left Middletown, VT. 23 Oct 1817, and started west with a yoke of oxen. He battled rain, mud and floods to reach Le Roy, NY. He traveled 320 miles in 22 days. In December 1817 he bought 105 acres and started cutting logs. On 4 Jan 1818 he raised a log house; 10 logs high, 18'x26'. Provisions were scarce. They put wheat in the milk, boiled it, and drank the broth. They dug leeks, parboiled them and made a jelly. On 30 Apr 1828 he decided to go to MI. After buying 160 acres and clearing 5, he returned to Batavia, NY, to get his family. They went by way of Canada to Farmington, MI, and settled there in 1829. He was sick the next year and raised little. In later years he was a preacher. He died in Farmington, MI.

Pastor of Trinity Church, Highland Park, IL. President of Society of Descendants of Henry Wolcott, 1924-25.
The following was written by Peter on 29 Apr 1931:

The Porridge Spoon of Peregrine White, the first white male child born in America, born November 10 OS. Nov. 20 N.S. on board the ship Mayflower in Cape Cod harbour.

Peregrine White was the son of William White who, according to the Leyden records, married first Anna Fuller, Feb. 2, 1612, and second, Sussanna (sic) Tilley, March 3, 1620. William White is said to have been the son of Bishop John White of Winchester, who in his will dated 1621 alludes to a son, not called by name, who had left his country and his Church. With William White and his wife on the Mayflower came one son, Resolve White, who afterward married a daughter of William Vassal. He was a wool carder and died six weeks after his marriage. The genealogy as it has come down to me from my grandfather Elias Howe Wolcott is as follows:

Peregrine White's daughter married Benjamin Wheeler, and Wheeler's daughter married Nehemia Howe, whose daughter Delinda married Elias Wolcott (Aug. 29, 1802). Their son Elias Howe Wolcott (born June 17, 1803) married Lorana Starling (March 18, 1826). Their son, Lucian McClanathan Wolcott, my father (born April 27, 1827), married Emeline Mary Elizabeth Clark, my mother, July 26, 1855.

I, Peter Clark Wolcott, born May 4, 1856, married Elinor Louise Smith, September 2, 1885.

I remember distinctly my great grandfather Elias Wolcott and my grandfather and grandmother Elias Howe and Lorana Starling Wolcott.

See genealogies of the Wolcott, Howe and Wheeler families.

The spoon, handed down to my father, was given to me by him before his death August 18, 1892.

JOHN[10] WESLEY WOLCOTT (Milton[9], Sollis[8], Milton[7], Thomas[6], Josiah[5], John[4], Josiah[3], Henry[2], Henry[1]),b. 3 Apr 1897, Gilmore City, IA; d. 28 Feb 1972, Bragg Creek, Canada; m. 7 Apr 1922, Mrs. Maude E. (Hodge) Foell, b. 13 Feb 1888, Garner, IA; d. 3 Feb 1972, Ponoka, Canada. At age 17 John enlisted in U. S. Army Tank Corps during WWI. Sent to England and France to train.

One time he was charged with guarding the field where ammunition and tanks were stored. A drunken American officer demanded to be admitted to the tank area. John refused to open the gates, explaining to the officer that he had orders to admit no one to that area under any circumstances, and he was to shoot to kill anyone who tried to get by.

The officer persisted. John pulled his gun and told the officer he would shoot to kill if he persisted in trying to enter the territory. When the officer saw that John meant business, he cursed John and left, saying he would have John arrested for disobeying an officer and pulling a gun on him.

John was brought before the Hearing Officers, charged with the above offenses. After the Colonel heard John's testimony, John was found innocent of the charges and commended for his high sense of devotion to duty. The officer was punished for his misconduct.

John had excellent rapport with the Canadian Indians in his vicinity. He was known as a just white man and on occasion loaned Indians small sums of money (no interest) to tide them over when the going was tough. They always repaid their loans. At John's funeral in 1972 in Ponoka, Alberta, Canada, two rows of seats were reserved in the church for the Indians. Every seat was occupied, although the weather was cold and snowy and the church was a distance from the Hobbema Indian Reservation.

APPENDIX "B"

Included in this appendix are families that have not yet been able to trace their ties to Henry[1] Wolcott.

FAMILY -1-

WILLIAM[1] WALCOTT, b. England; d. Salem, MA; m. Alice Ingersoll, who was alive at time her father's will was proved 2 Jan 1645. William came from Devonshire on the coast of England and was captain of a ship. In 1636 William was a freeman and was granted by town of Salem 30 acres of land. The next year, 1637, he was granted three acres more as head of a family of four. In 1639 he was in trouble with the Church authorities for being an Anabaptist--a non-believer of infant baptism. Soon after November, 1644, according to the authorities of the Colony of Massachusetts Bay, he became obnoxious and was forced to depart, apparently leaving his family behind. According to a record book entry dated 24 Apr 1648, he was in Newfoundland. (Information from The Walcott Book by Arthur Stuart Walcott.)

SAMUEL[2], bap. 28 May 1727; d. 1809, Cheshire, MA; m. 29 March 1750, Lucy Wright, b. 26 March 1728/9; dau. of Samuel Wright of Wethersfield, CT. Samuel Wolcott was an early settler in the town of Shoreham, VT, locating in the northern part of town. He was to receive a grant of 1,300 acres providing he recruited 20 settlers during a period of 59 years. However, he was driven off by Indians and Tories during the Revolution. The terms of the grant were broken and he received only 100 acres. He also resided Goshen, VT, c. 1753; Lanesboro, MA, c. 1763; Shoreham, VT, fall of 1773. After capture of Ft. Ticonderoga, he removed to Berkshire Co., MA, where he lived until 1783.

He owned and sold the property mentioned in Stile's Ancient Wethersfield (vol. 1, p. 480) to Joseph Webb, afterwards known as Webb House. This property is claimed by Stiles to have been ancestral in the Wolcott family, having been bought by Henry of Windsor from Clement Cheplin for his son Samuel Wolcott. Samuel[2] Wolcott's sons all claimed to be descendants of Henry Wolcott of Windsor. Revolutionary War service. With Ethan Allen at capture of Ft. Ticonderoga.

FAMILY -16-

SAMUEL[1] W. WOLCOTT, d. May/Dec 1687, was known to be a radical and was expelled from his Puritan family. Samuel had to leave the group and moved to New Jersey, which was a liberal and a Quaker colony. It was stated that "Samuel Wolcott" was the first of the name in this county. He was of Shrewsbury. He was a patentee in 1670 of 150 acres. After arriving in Monmouth County, Samuel Wolcott married a Monmouth County widow, Mrs. Williams. She had one son by her previous marriage, Edward Williams, whom Samuel adopted. Samuel bought 150 acres of land by Neversinks River on 10 Jan 1681. He rented part of that land until 1686. Samuel also owned land on the Fall River. Part of this land he rented to Joseph West. The will of Samuel Wolcott, dated 7 May 1687, probated 10 Oct 1687, proved 1 Dec 1687, and entered upon public records 8 Dec 1687. The will of "Samuel Wolcott" of Shrewsbury, Monmouth County, New Jersey, stated:

"Being sick and weake of body", bequeath unto my sons, Edward Williams and Nathaniel Wolcott, all my lands that I have, also my goods . . . I have to be equally divided between them, one halfe to my sone Williams and ye other to my sone Nathaniel Wolcott doe allow and pay to ye affore said Edward Williams the one halfe of all his disbursments charges and Sums of money that he hath laid oult for me and fore ye land.

"I desire . . . my friends Judah Allen and Thomas Webley to be my Executors and to take that my son Nathaniel be no wise wronged by his master Joseph Grover. I leave my Executors one English shilling to each for their rememberance of me to be paid by my Sons affresaid."

The will was signed "Samuell Wollcutt" and also signed with a mark. The witnesses were John Marten, Edmond LaFetra and Audrey Webley.
